

Testimonials HMF I Show INDIA 2010

The first edition of Surface India is placed in the market at the right time. German providers of surface treatment technology have shown increasing interest in the Indian market over the past year and as of today various German surface treatment companies have started their business presence in India. Exhibitors and visitors of the exhibition can rely on the substantial expertise of Hannover Milano Fairs India and the sector and market specific knowledge of their strong Indian partner the Society for Surface Protective Coatings - India.

From what I have seen here in Mumbai, I am convinced of a good development of this show in the upcoming years and look forward to Surface India 2011 in Bangalore.

It is the fourth time that the German-Indian Business Center joined events of Deutsche Messe in India to promote and support business between both countries. After a year of a worldwide crisis, companies are again optimistic and have expansion plans towards Europe. We see plenty of opportunities and looking forward to coming back to Deutsche Messe events in Bangalore 2011 next year.

On Behalf of our company Walther Spritz-und Lackiersysteme,Wuppertal, Germany, we have participated in two exhibitions in India in 2010 and SURFACE INDIA was a premiere show. We achieved a high interest for our quality “Made in Germany”. We are satisfied with the business contacts, project requests, offerings and invitations for meetings within companies in India that we have obtained during the show. We are looking forward for the future market in India.

Festo has a long association with Hannover Messe, which has been an effective launching pad for latest innovations and technologies every year in the field of automation. Entry of Hannover Messe into the Indian Market through IA/MDA INDIA exhibition is a welcome move by Festo and many other companies who are looking for an international standard platform to display their innovations and application ideas for the benefit of Indian Industries.

We are confident that the MDA exhibition will take the quality standards of such events in India to much higher levels in future.

I am happy to say that CeMAT 2010 was a good and successful event for us from a business point of view. I guess that is what matters at the end of the day, to decide to participate again in your next event in 2011. As regards the arrangement and management of the event, HMF I has never given any cause for complaint. All arrangements were smooth and the security was excellent. Counter staff was courteous and efficient and the freight handling was also smooth and without hiccups. A well coordinated effort that did not at any point cause any stress anywhere.

Hope to be with you again, at CeMAT 2011.

Godrej Material Handling continued having a major presence at the CeMAT show, for the fourth consecutive year. At a time when the economy is booming and there being a great optimism in the market, this proved to be an excellent platform to display our new products & showcase our latest technologies. It provided a tremendous opportunity to interact with our existing and prospective customers. These interactions have provided us first hand feedbacks on providing better products and solutions, in our endeavor to remain and grow as a total material handling solutions provider catering all industries.

We are impressed by the professionalism exhibited by Hannover Messe AG, in organizing this Indian edition. This year's edition was successfully organized which can be compared to international exhibits. They have worked with us as partners in making this exhibition a success for us over the years. The last four years have provided an appropriate platform for a slew of new product launches. This year been particularly special since the exhibition was used as a communication platform to launch our new business identity. The current show included a display of 12 new material handling products which have received a fantastic response.

We wish the organizers good luck in the years to come.
